

TeamHeadquarters Project Management and ITSM All in One Solution - Release Candidate Announced

TeamHeadquarters 7.0 Release Candidate (RC), integrated project management and ITSM software, has been released to customers, prospects, interested parties and beta testers.

London, Ontario (PRWEB) September 27, 2013 -- Entry Software Corporation announced today that its TeamHeadquarters 7.0 software has been made available as a Release Candidate (RC). Customers, interested parties and beta testers can now test and validate the software.

TeamHeadquarters 7.0 RC includes Service Desk for ITIL, Project Management and Resource Management. The software provides project managers, IT managers, CIO's and IT workers consolidated management tools to perform and report on planned, operational, and project tasks as well as unplanned service and help desk requests.

“Entry Software plans to release TeamHeadquarters 7.0 officially during the Fusion 13 conference in Nashville, Tennessee on October 20, 2013,” says Mark Donais, President of Entry Software. “For the first time, an IT workforce can incorporate all work in a single application. With TeamHeadquarters, it's easy to schedule and manage project and operational tasks, service and help desk requests, meetings and personal events. Integration with Microsoft Exchange and Google Calendars calendars are key to making this our most powerful release ever.”

Special show only pricing will be made available to attendees of the Fusion 13 conference and will include pre-release pricing discounts of 15-percent off all editions.
